MR. J. D. STEVENSON, alias JARVIS .- Gov. Bouck having seen fit to appoint this gentleman to a responsible State office, in the face of the notorious fact that he is a published defaulter to our City Government, we had intended to let him pass without farther remark. But a recent Evening Post centaining a communication justifying Gov. Bouck's appointment and whitewashing the character of Stavenson, a friend writes us an article in correction, which we cannot publish in full, but from which we glean the following facts:

1. Stevenson's apologist talks of his having been removed from the office of Collector of Ar rears of Taxes by the Whig Common Council. This is untrue : he held the office five months, during which the Loco-Foco Comptroller tried his best to make him account regularly for the moneys collected by him, but without effect, though he often threatened to report him as a defaulter. At last, the case became so bad that Stevenson was compelled by leading men of his own party, rather than be removed, to resign, which he did, (before the Whigs came into power,) and Mr. Wm. P. Morse, another Loco-Foco, was appointed in his stead. 2. Stevenson now sets up a claim, in offset of the $6.000 for which he is a defaulter, for extra compensation for his services in making out a list of lands to be sold for taxes, advertising it, &c. The answer to this preposterous claim is that his predecessor, Clarkson Crolius, senior, was removed just as he (S.) claims to have been, after he had made out just such lists and notices, yet he was allowed nothing extra for his services, and Stevenson enjoyed the benefits of them without paying anything. The rule is old and inflexible that by express law a Collector of Arrears of Taxes (unlike a Collector of Assessments) receives six per cent of his collections as payment in full for his services, and has nothing to do with collections made after his official term expires. If Stevenson is to be paid as he claims. Mr. Crolius should be paid likewise, and out of Stevenson's pocket, too. But the fact that Stevenson was not removed, but resigned, renders his claim absurd and preposterous.

3. Stevenson's apologist chooses to say that be (S.) has suffered greatly from Whig persecution. and that his wife was rendered insane thereby The less his indiscreet friends say on that head, the better for their client. We will only say here that the insanity of Mrs. S. is of much longer standing than is here set up, and had a very different origin.

There is much more to be said in the premises but we forbear. We do think Gov. Bouck has established a very bad precedent in appointing this Stevenson to office; if the People sustain and approve the act, it is their affair, not ours; but in that case they should not grumble and must not be astonished if they have to pay Taxes twice over ILLINOIS .- The House passed the Revenue bili after a long and harassing discussion, 54 to 47. An amendment suspending for the years 1842 and 43 and until the close of the next Legislature, the tax of ten cents on each $100 of taxable property (imposed for the special purpose of providing for the payment of interest on the Public Debt) was adopted: Yeas 62; Nays 41. If this is not plainly Repudiation, what would be?

THE PATHFINDER .- Mr. Godwin's new weekly paper, we are happy to hear, is meeting with the success it eminently deserves. On many vital questions of fundamental Principles and Political Economy, we differ as widely as may be from its Editor; but the fearlessness and honesty with which he discusses all Political, Moral and Social Questions command our hearty approbation. If something less caustic than his exempler, William Leggett, he is no whit less determined in following his convictions, let them lead where they will; and his spirit is the more genial and hopeful of the two. The Literary department of his work is especially able and attractive.

What is the reason that ex-Marshal James H. Ward, ex-Mayor's Clerk John Ahern, &c. &c. are not brought to trial? Is it not time? If there are any funds coming back to the City Treasury. let them come along. Mr. District Attorney come down upon the well-dressed rogues new and then, as well as the shabby ones.

LF A paper we never heard of in Syracuse assails Mr FARMER, of the 'Opondaga Standard' (Loco) as having been engaged with us in 1840, in publishing The Log Cabin. This is untrue. Mr. F. was for a short time in our office, bu never had any interest in The Log Cabin, but regarded and treated it as became a stubbors, wareasoning, hard money Loca-Foco. We say 'unreasoning,' for we presume if be had been open to conviction we should have converted him We'll warrant him argument-proof on the subject of Poli-

Things in Albany. From our regular Correspondent.

ALBANY, March 11, 1843. The Assembly to-day has been a bear garden in earnest. If any of your readers have supposed that I have at any time over-drawn the picture of the family quarrel between the two divisions of the Democracy in the Legislature, their doubts would have been dispelled, had they been present in the Assembly to-day. The "Barnburners" had counted noses and came to the House to-day determined to 'sit out" the Bank Commissioners' bill. This set the wits of the "Conservatives" at work, to defeat the laudable object. After much time spent in making speeches against time, and the offering of all sorts of impracticable amendments, all to no avail, a pretence was set up that Speaker Davis, who was at home, wanted to reply to some personalilies! A motion was made to rise and report. The CLEB or protege of Speaker Davis announced the vote-Ayes 40; Nays 39. Thereupon arose such a din and Babelic confusion, as has not been witnessed since the times of Shinar of old. The count was challenged-the Chair bullied on both sides-"Cowards, cowards," resounded through the Hall. At length the Chair took the responsibility to rise and letthe SPEAKER (Hathaway) preside over the tumult. Then came confusion werse confounded. LELAND, WILLIAMS, SHERWOOD and other "Baraburners" were for renewing the conflict of the Committee in the House, but HATHaway, very properly ruled it out. A motion was then made to go back into Committee, when AL-LEN the leader of the "Conservatives" and a res hot Bank man, made a furious attack on the " Barnburners"-calling them a "pack of cowards;" and accusing them of setting "Old Enoch" forward to "do what they did not dare to de." After this sublime peroration, he anoved an adjournment, which was carried by seven majority. While the vote was being taken, WILLIAMS, a "Barnburner" of the first water, went to ALLEN's seat, and ac cused him of conduct unbecoming a gentleman. High words ensued, and the lie was passed between the two honorables! Scarcely had the adjournment been announced, when they rushed together and were very comfortably throttling each other, when they were parted and cooled off a little. Thus ended this most disgraceful scene. Arkansas must wake up! She is fast losing rank and easte as the head of Legislative broils. New-York is close upon her heels.

You will see by the reported proceedings, that Mr. Daly has introduced a bill to gerrymander your city. A desperate effort will be made to Professorships; that nearly a hundred printing consummate this iniquitous scheme. How is it that your citizens are standing idly by? Do they wish it said, when this bill comes up, that there is no opposition? It will be said, unless the re monstrances pour in thick and fast. Your citizens have the power to defeat this offspring of iniquity in the Senate, if they but will it. Let them ness for the means of moral and intellectual cul-

The table of the Senate is loaded with memorials, proceedings of public meetings, remonstrances, &c., in relation to assessments and taxes in your city. Some most formidable documents were presented this morning, announcing the forth-comng of a Committee to lobby our venerable Senators with their views. They came just in time, to stop the report which the Judiciary Committee inended to make this morning.

The Senate make haste slowly. The bill to pay contractors, "drags its slow length along." The $84,358 received under the Distribution Law, will be appropriated by the Senate to pay arreages to the contractors. The Destructives are against touching the money at all. SHERWOOD, HUNTER and Rogers make loud appeals to the party to reject the bribe! Of the first two, you know some thing. Did you ever see the latter genius? He is known here as the "Lighthouse of Lake Ontario!" The only wonder is, how he ever obtained even a Loco-Foco nomination! It will be a still greater wonder if he ever serves another four years in the Senate of the Empire State.

Tylerism at Work in New-Jersey.

New-BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 14th. FRIEND GREELEY,-We have Captain Tyler's naw down upon our worthy Post Master, Samuel C. Cook, who is removed, and is superseded by one Simpson, a late office-holder under Van Buren, and a thorough-paced Loco, who now feigns Tylerism to get the spoils. Our town is all commotion, in relation to this abuse of power; (the Whigs, to a man, and more than one-half of the Locos, more than 100 of that party, signed a petition in behalf of Cook)-but the New-Jersey contract must be complied with, and all the Whigs turned out, while Zabriskie & Co. will cheat the Rev. D. P. KIDDER delivered a very instructive and interesting Lecture at the Society Library last evening upon the Moral and Literary Character of Brazil. The statements which he made possessed a greater degree of interest from the fact that few persons among us are at all acquainted with the actual condition of that imnense and most fertile Empire. Having at an carly day fallen into the hands of Portuguese domination, its condition and interests seem ever since to have been very generally regarded with the indifference which has so widely fallen upon the Literature and Polity of its parent land; and but for the earnest and self-denving efforts of the Missionaries of our day, the same darkness would probably continue for many years to rest upon them. Southey's 'History of Brazil'-which has attracted but a small portion of the attention to which its eminent merits and the care bestowed upon it by that learned and laborious scholar entitle it, is, so far as we know, the only work from which a clear and comprehensive knowledge of that Empire may be gained. Mr. KIDDER, who has spent some time in a close examination of the resources and institutions of the country, stated that a very complete and well-organized system of education is supported by the Government, comprehending primary schools, colleges, and universities with ably filled presses have been established within the Empire in a few years past; that extensive public libraries exist in some of the principal cities; that many of the governments of Europe maintain agents withn the Empire to collect and transmit a knowledge of its scientific wealth; that a very general eagerblame themselves then, if the scheme is carried ture prevails among the people; and that, with suitable encouragement from the clergy of the country, and well-directed efforts of missionary and other philanthropic societies among us, Brazil bids fair, before many years have passed, to be as conspicuous for her moral and intellectual elevation as she is for the mildness of her climate and the unsurpassed beauty and richness of her soil.

His Henor the Mayor read a statement of the objects and prospects of the Lyceum Female Education Society, in behalf of which the Lecture was delivered, presenting in strong and eloquent terms the extended purposes they have formed and the means through which they look forward to their accomplishment.

BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL.

Things in Philadelphia.

Correspondence of The N. Y. Tribune.
PHILADELPHIA, March 14-P. M. The attendance at the Board of Brokers to-day was quite slim, and the sales were only to a medium extent. Pennsylvania State Fives were freely effered at 39, but there was not the least disposition to purchase at that price. The for lowing are the transactions at both Boards:-40 shares of Washington Insurance Company, 21; $2000 Kentucky Bonds, 85; 22 shares Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, 25; 5 shares Kentucky Bank, 49; 3 shares Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, 25; ; 16 shares Wilmington Railroad, 9; 25 shares Northern Bank of Kentucky, 64.

All our New-York morning papers, The Tribune among the number, except those which came by the Mail Line, are missing to-day. The crate containing the baggage, papers &c. on bo 'd the steambat Independence was lost near Amboy, in consequence of the sudden pitching of the boat, caused by strong winds and a high swell of the waters. It believed, however, that the crate, together with its contents, will be recovered, and that it will probably reach here by the Mail Pilot Line. This disappoinment of course has been very great.

It is eard, upon the authority of private letters from Washngion, that the Court Martial which was lately assembled in this City for the trial of Lieut Tansill, of the Marine Corps, have found that able and accomptished officer guilty of prevarication, &c., and recommended his suspension for three years on half pay. Great preparations are making for the Ward Elections, to take place on Friday next, by both parties. The Locos, n particular, are straining every nerve to secure the elecion of their candidates. The change in the weather during the night was most audden and severe. Yesterday morning the thermometer tood at 34-this morning at 20. Some of our brokers quote, to-day, Exchange on New-Orleans at 2 per cent. prem. The Inquirer of this morning, whose Editor is generally vell informed in such matters, in alluding to the Spring rade, states that about 1000 strangers arrived at nine of our rincipal hotels during the past week, and among them everal hundred merchants from the West and South, who risit our city with the object of making purchases. Really, this may be regarded as a very fair indication with respect to the spring business. It will be seenthat A. Mann's New-York Olympic Circus

Company, made a very narrow escape of it at Point Pette, having barely got safely on board of the brig which conreyed them to St. Thomas, before the awful sestruction of hat place by the earthquake! The company were in good health, and expected to leave St. Thomas, in the brig Frances Amy, Capt. Atwood, for Anguadilla, on the 22nd

"I arrived here yesterday from Antigua, and witnessed a dreadful shock of an earthouake which visited that I sland on the 3th iost., at 10 A. M. Stone edifi.es and frame buildings have been seriously injured, and many of them totally destroyed. The town of St. Johns presents a most distressing appearance, and the country has suffered a severe loss, as many sugar works are destroyed, and the beautiful crop now ready for cutting, will prove almost a total loss. The destruction of property cannot be less than [$3,000,000. From 30 to 40 lives are lost. The Governor of Antigua despatched a vessel of war to the neighboring islands, to ascerpatched a vessel of war to the neighboring islands, to ascer-tain the extent of damage sustained, and on her return re-ported that the islands of Montserrat, St. Kitts and Nevis were in ruins, attended with a dreadful loss of life. At St Vincent, Grenada, Dominica, Martinique and St. Lucia the shock was severely felt, but no damage had been sustained. BRUTUS.

THE PARRICIDE WHITE .- Benj. D. White, re cently convicted at Le Roy, Genesce Co., of the murder of his father, has been sentenced to be hung on the 29th day of April next. The Le Roy Gazette Extra gives a full report of his trial, from which it appears that his father was a pious man, possessed of some property, and universally esteemed. The son had conceived a strong hatred of him for supposed ill-treatment and especially because he was a Christian, the son being a Deist. Several quarrels had occurred between them, and on the 16th of March, 1842, the son went to the woods where the father was, had a dispute with him, and soon after followed him home. As he was entering the house his father attempted to exclude him, when he drew a pistol and shot him After his conviction, White made a long rambling address to the Court, in abuse of Christianity and his deceased father, whose murder he confessed. He manifested no penitence, and was anxious only THE EARTHQUAKE .- A correspondent of the that a parrative he has written in support of Deism should be published.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT. - Before Judge BETTS THE SOMERS CASE .- Mr. Duer resumed the argument and concluded about 2 o'clock—necessarily confining him self to the citation of authorities and criticism as to the construction of the constitution and the various laws, he was unable to do more than wade through the physical fatigue attending such, without presenting remark. This disappointed a number among the thronged Court who had indulged the hope of witnessing a repetition of the brilliant display of the day previous, but was undoubtedly advantageons to him, in a physical point of view, as he still labored under the effects of indisposition. The principal feature of his argument was in support of the opinion of Chief Justice Marshall, that Congress had power to make laws for the government of the Navy, and that the trial for offences by persons belonging to such was delegated to Courts Mar-

He was followed by Geo. Griffin, Esq., on the same side, who alluded to the inconsistency of the admissions of coun-sel on the opposite side, that persons belonging to the Navy are amenable to trial by jury, and entitled to the action o grand juries, and yet that certain misdemeanors can be ounished by the naval code; also that the constitution alowed the crime of marder to be tried on board a national vessel at sea and yet not on shore. He contended that the operations of the constitution were general, and that if the aval code had not power over all cases connected with persons and offences in the Navy, it had not such over any. Mr. G. will resume the argument this fore noon.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT A RAPE .- Patrick Riley was placed upon trial, charged with an assault and battery and attempting to commit a rape, on the person of Mrs. Maria Ward, a widow, residing at 92 Norfolk-street, in December last. A verdict was rendered of guilty of assault and battery. The Court fined him $15, and to stand committed until paid, which he subsequently settled and was discharged. Assault and Battery .- Thomas Delehanty, a cartman, vas tried for assaulting Newcomb Cleaveland, a hack driver, in December last. The affray took place at the foot of Liberty-street, and arose about carrying some baggage. Verdict, gui ty, and a fine of $5 imposed upon the accused. GRAND LARCENY .- William L. Hyate, impleaded with Denest Keyser, Jr., was tried for grand larceny, stealing he carcase of a dressed ox, worth $40, from the slaughter house of Messrs. Jolly & Grum, in 28th street. The counsel for defence, Mr. Shaler, took exception to the indictment as defective, inasmuch as it charged the theft of a dead ox. whereas it was not in fact the carcase of an ox or a whole ox that was stolen, but so much beef, or only parts of an ox, as the body had been deprived of its head, hide, feet. &c., and was not therefore a dead ox. The description of the property stolen was not sufficient in the indictment, as cannsel contended. The District Attorney denied the correctness and legality of the exception taken, contending that the description in the indictment was sufficient, and defied the opposing counsel to show authority to support their doctrine. Shaler rejoined. Mr. Price, amicus curia, expressed the same views as Mr. Shaler. The Recorder and Alderman Gedney were in favor of sustaining the indictment, and Judge Lyach and Alderman Smith adverse. The objections were not, therefore, sustained. The jury, after an absence of half an hour, returned a verdict of not guilty Ernest Keyser, Jr., indicted with Hyatt in participating n the above act, failing to appear for trial, his recognizance was forfeited. His bail is John Keyser.

NEW NOVEL BY BALZAC. I Will be published on WEDNESDAY MORNING. an EXTRA NEW WORLD, at No. 30 Ann-street,

EUGENIA GRANDET. A TALE OF

EVERY DAY LIFE IN FRANCE IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

This splendid production of the great French Anthon B le Bulzac, has been most admirably rendered by E. K. Gould, Esq., whom our readers know as the talented translator of 'Incidents of Travel,' by Alexandre Dumas, which appeared in the last volume of the New World. It was shortly be issued in a Double Extra Number of our journal. or which it has been expressly translated.

This novel is commended to the American public by the act of its being the only one extant, in our language, which treats of what a painter would call 'still life' in the Provinces of France. Scott, James and others have illuming ed their pages with the feats of French chivalry, and presanted to us the knigh's and high-born dames of that pelas country as they lived and flourished in past ages; but French Provincial Life in the Ninetecuth Century is hitherto me trodden ground for the novelist.

The characters of Old Grandet, (known as the Miser of Saugner.) his daughter Eugenia, and Charles, her lover, to exquisitely drawn : Eugenia, in particular, is one of the most delightful creations that ever figured in the pages romance, and in our judgement is scarcely inferior 6 (though, indeed, totally different from) Jeans Beans be. SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA .- Fever is one of the most freguent and dangerous diseases to which the human body a liable. Its first impression is upon the retvous system, the the vessels of the skin become changed, producing dryper and burning heat. After this the general system is involved, and the patient sinks beneath the attack unless relieved by and the patient sinks beneath the attack unless relieved by appropriate remedies. Noxions effluvia and various missus are the cause of fever, being infused through the atmosphere and then breathed into the lungs, when the poison concluse with the impure fluids of the body and is carried by the disculating organs to the remotest ramifications of the system. If then the animal frame is kept in a perfectly sound adhealthy state, and every organ performing its functions poperly, there can be no union of the predispoling cause, which is the noxious effluvia or marsh missm, with the exclusions. is the noxious efflavia or marsh miasm, with the exciting is the noxious efflavia or marsh miasm, with the exciting which is an impore state of the blood and depraved cook. tion of the general constitution, and consequently note ease.
